PA NEWS & OBSERVES

Last night proved one of the best nights of the summer for sleeping, after several days of hot humid weather. The mercury dropped to 59 degrees, and folks today had a refreshed appearance after a good night's rest.

Highway department employees report that work is in progress in the Ellwood City and the Chevon areas of the county. Portions of the highway are being replaced at those points. Work is also going on at the game farm road in the Scott Township district of the county.

Methodists of the New Castle sub-district were turned out in large numbers today to attend the first annual all Methodist day picnic at Cascade Park. Preparations for the big event have been going on for several months.

Numerous automobiles about the city are carrying an additional sticker on the rear window of their car side from the regulation inspection sticker which is carried on the windshield of the vehicles. The sticker bears a keystone, a symbol of the state and resembles closely the first of the state inspection stickers put out some years ago.

With leaves in some districts of the county falling at this time of the year, motorists should be doubly careful on the highways, especially during wet weather, when a few leaves could cause a dangerous skid and possibly severe damage as well as loss of life. State police report that most accidents are caused by "traveling too fast for conditions."

Utility employees have been engaged over the past few days in applying a coat of shiny green paint to the large light standards which were recently erected in the East Washington street section, between Croton and County Line streets. The overall condition of that section of the city has been improved.

Sea Foils Barton, Power Line Fails, Postpone New Try

Sea Explorer Down 2300 Feet In Undersea Descent When Lights Go Out

TO INSPECT CABLE FOR ANY DEFECTS

SMUGGLER'S COVE, Santa Cruz Island, Calif., Aug. 16.—(INS)—Dr. Otis Barton fought doggedly today to surmount difficulties that have balked his efforts to dive 6,000 feet into the ocean in his bathyscope.

The veteran sea explorer dropped to 2,300 feet yesterday, to establish a new record for a one-man descent, but had to be pulled up because his power line failed. Today the 48-year-old Boston scientist began a foot-by-foot inspection of the cable to eliminate all insulation defects such as the one that caused the line to short.

No Definite Time

Barton has set no definite time for his next attempt to drop into the inky black, ice cold depths of the sea.

Talking to Dr. Maurill Nelles of the Allan Hancock Foundation for scientific research as he was lowered in the water yesterday, the explorer reported sighting strange and beautiful creatures deep in the ocean.

He said he saw a "long luminous worm," "a beautiful long eel with seven gold lights on its head" and a jellyfish that gave off bright flashes of light as well as other creatures.

At that point, 1,000 feet down, Barton's lights were good enough for observation but insufficient for photographs.

Power Fails

Finally the power failed completely and the explorer ordered the bathyscope raised from 2,300 feet after he had fought grimly to go below that mark. At one time he fanned air in his 54-inch steel diving bell with his hands in order to keep going after the power failure.

It was the third straight day that the scientist had been frustrated in his diving attempts. Rough seas and equipment difficulties thwarted attempts to make the plunge Sunday and Monday.

Barton hopes his dive will yield information of importance to several branches of science.

Start New Drive For Arms-Aid Cut

Foreign Affairs Committee To Try 50 Percent Cut In President's Request

By ROSE McKEE (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Four members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee today opened a new drive for a 50 percent cut in the $1,160,990,000 asked by the administration for arms-aid to free Europe.

The committee by a 14 to 5 vote approved only last night the full one billion 450 million dollar program for global rearmament against rearmament against communism which Mr. Truman requested July 25.

Chairman Kee (D) W. Va., said he will seek permission today to call the arms-aid program up in the House for debate Wednesday.

Rep. Vorys (R) Ohio, indicated that the real fight on the full program is only beginning.

Minority Report

He disclosed that he and three other committee members are signing a minority report demanding that the European part of the global rearmament program be slashed to half its size.

Joining with him in the demand, he said, are Reps. Richards (D) S. C., Judd (R) Minn., and Burlington (D) Tex.

Rep. Javits (R) N. Y., announced that he will press on the House floor for an amendment to terminate the program March 31 and to cut it by about 230 million dollars.

The committee tacked on an amendment to prevent "five percenters" from profiting by the program.

The amendment would bar anyone who has worked for the government for the last two years from accepting a "commission, payment or gift" from anyone connected with the arms program.

Violations of this provision, which would apply to those who offered as well as those who received a "commission, payment or gift," would be punishable by a maximum penalty of a three-year jail term and a $10,000 fine.

ATLANTA, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Margaret Mitchell died in Atlanta's Grady hospital at 12:01 today of injuries received when struck by an automobile Thursday night. She never gained complete consciousness.

Truman To Stick By Military Aide

Sources Say Deep Freeze Gifts Not Sufficient To Split With Vaughan

By ROBERT G. NIXON (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—President Truman plans to stick by his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, unless given good reason to do otherwise.

Informed sources said today the chief executive does not feel that Vaughan's gifts of deep freezers to top federal officials is sufficient reason to change the attitude he has had for his friend of 30 years standing.

"Temporary Embarrassment"

Rather, the president is said to feel that the "deep freeze incident" is a temporary embarrassment caused by White House and other government officials.

The president's attitude was understood to be one of keeping an open mind on the five percenters investigation.

He feels that while his long-time friend and associate may have been indiscreet, there has been no evidence brought out thus far in the senate investigation of wrongdoing on his part.

He intends keeping this open-mindedness so long as this condition exists.

Some members of the White House staff are certain in their open minds that the military aide will be able to explain any or all charges that may be brought against him to the satisfaction of the committee and, they hope, public opinion. One associate said:

"Wait until Harry takes the stand and tells his story."

Those who know President Truman well will give you any kind of odds against the chief executive taking action against a member of his staff, or a friend, when they are under fire.

He has "chopped off the heads" of some staff members when they have been given their chance but have shown ineptitude. But never when they were under attack from outside.

FIREMEN INJURED

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Burning grease today was blamed for a fire which caused an estimated $8,000 damage to an up-town Harrisburg frame building and injured three firemen.

Each of the firemen suffered lacerations of the left arm. A man who turned in the alarm incurred cuts of the right arm.

The hour-long blaze began when grease on a grill of a first-floor restaurant caught fire, firemen said. An adjoining barber shop and two upstairs apartments were damaged.

TWO SMALL FIRES

At 11:10 a. m. they were summoned to the home of Mrs. Ida Thomas, of 411 Locust street, where a bonfire scorched the side of the house. Damage was around $5. At 11:20, they were summoned to upper Croton avenue, where a small fire occurred in a truck owned by Charles Ventrella. The loss was small.

OLD TIMERS TO FROLIC AT PARK WEDNESDAY

Alfred Martin, state highway superintendent said today the West Pittsburgh bridge over the Beaver river will be opened Friday.

Repairs have been under way on the bridge since early in the summer. It is one of the important methods of ingress and egress to West Pittsburgh from the west side of the Beaver river.

The bridge which was closed to traffic due to the weakened condition of the structure was ordered repaired by the state highway department. An entire new surface was necessary for the structure as well as strengthening of the entire bridge.

The new traveling surface is of the mesh type which will permit safe travel all year round. During icy or snowy traveling weather the bridge surface will be free of ice or snow.

The opening of the bridge will offer welcome relief to trucks and other equipment which have been seeking to entrance to the borough with freight and other materials for plants in that area. The detour which has been in effect since the closing of the bridge will be removed by highway workmen.

DENY DEATH REPORT

TOKYO, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The Communist radio in Peiping today reportedly denied a Nationalist report that Chinese Communist boss Mao Tse-tung is dead.

(A Nationalist spokesman reported in Canton that the 36-year-old Mao died in Peiping of tuberculosis on July 17.)

The Communist radio, in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, said Mao spoke in Peiping August 13 before the "all society circles" conference, which the number one Chinese Red described as the fore-runner of a projected municipal assembly.

"Auld Acquaintances" will be renewed once again at the park on Wednesday!

The Old Timers Day, annual gala reunion, will be staged at Cascade Park. Grandma, grandpa, and all their kids and kinfolk will be on hand for the big affair. Not a stone of that park will be returned.

From the merry-go-round to the swimming pool and back to the lake, shouts of laughter will fill the air. The park will literally be "erawling" with people—all ages, sizes, shapes, and what have you! From Kokomo to Rasputin, Hog Hollow to Windy Gap—all cities will be represented. Old Timers Day draws the people like honey draws bees. And who wouldn't go out for a day of fun and frolic? All you old timers of New Castle and vicinity come out in your "glad rags" and trip the light fantastic in a big way on Wednesday. Plan to stay around all day and get in on all the "goings on".

GALWAY, Ireland, Aug. 16.—A U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board investigator arrived in Ireland today and immediately questioned crew members on the Atlantic crash-landing of a four-engine airliner in which nine persons were killed and 49 dramatically rescued.

Investigator George R. Clark lost no time in interrogating Capt. Edward Bessey, pilot of the ill-fated transoceanic C-54, and other crewmen, resting at nearby Ennis.

Hunt Took Credit For Appointment

By GLEN M. GREEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Senate investigators were told today that James V. Hunt, alleged "five percent" man, claimed responsibility for the appointment of Maj. Gen. Alden Waitt as chief of the Army's chemical corps.

The testimony was given to the Senate committee probing Washington's "influence" by Lt. Col. Roy T. Evans, assistant chief of the supply division of the quartermaster general's office.

Committee investigators meanwhile set out to check an alleged case of "pressure" by Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughn and his friend, John Maragon, on the Agriculture department.

Committee Counsel William Rogers said the "five percent" probe is inquiring into reports that Vaughn, President Truman's military aide, and Maragon attempted to clear the Allied Mollasses Co. of Perth Amboy, N. J., of an Agriculture department complaint.

Evans, who said he knew Hunt "very well" and worked in the same office with him in the quartermaster general's office in 1942, reported on a social gathering he and Hunt attended a year and a half ago.

Evans told the committee: "At social gatherings Hunt liked to put himself in the position of knowing a lot of important persons in Washington. He wanted to impress people."

"On this particular occasion he said he was responsible for Gen. Waitt being in his present position and that he got Woods his job and also Larson."

The latter references were to Tighe Woods, housing expediter, and Jess Larson, former War Assets administrator and now head of the governments new general services agency. The testimony apparently dealt with the WAA post.

Evans appeared before the Senate investigating committee as the relationship between Waitt, recently suspended from the chemical corps post, and Hunt.

mately half of the equipment needed to fill the order will be made here.

It also means that while a mild recession has been occurring among other industrial plants in the local area, the local United plant will be operating at peak capacity for a number of months because of the order. While no figures as to the cost of the order have been given, it is understood that the local end of the order will amount to several millions of dollars.

The order represents the largest single contract obtained up to this time by an American concern for rolling mill machinery to be financed through the ECA.

French Steel Producers

The Societe Lorraine de Laminge Continu, more commonly known as SOLLAC, is one of the outstanding French steel producers and will erect the mill in the northern part of France. Delivery on the equipment is to be made within 20 months.

In addition to providing steady employment for United employees for some time, the order will provide a big stimulant to French industry, reducing unemployment in that country and enabling France to regain some of its former European business, lost because her industrial plants were wiped off the map by the concentrated bombing of Allied planes during occupation of France by the Nazis.

Local people will be gratified to learn that United secured this huge order, which is but one of many similar orders which have been filled by them, enabling European industry to become rehabilitated in the world recovery program.

The state department denied having been informed of the meeting. This gave further emphasis to its social character.

Marshall would not discuss political matters with Madame Chiang without first consulting the state department, it was said.

During his sojourn in China from the fall of 1945 until January, 1947, Marshall sought to arrange a truce between Chinese Nationalists and communists. At the time he believed that the greatest threat to world peace lay in that country.

So expert was Capt. Bessey's sea-landing that the passengers barely knew the airship was down. It remained aloft 15 minutes, permitting complete evacuation of the airliner.

Equally responsible for the low death toll was the speed with which the British trawler Stalberg proceeded to the scene and plucked the shivering victims from the water. Late last night the Stalberg brought the 49 survivors and two bodies to Galway. The Irish freighter Larahone brought six of the deceased to Galway and a search continued for the single missing passenger.

Officials at Galway's central hospital said most of the survivors were suffering shock and exposure but none appeared in serious condition save an Italian man who was believed to have a concussion.

Bridges Defies Injunction Order

Hawaiian Government May Take Action Against Longshoreman Head For Violation

HONOLULU, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Hawaiian government was expected to take action today against Harry Bridges, International CIO Longshoremen's president, for personally picketing a Honolulu pier in defiance of a court injunction.

Bridges took authorities by surprise when he picketed government stevedoring operations for 35 minutes late yesterday. The dock union chief was accompanied by Arthur Rutledge, a member of Honolulu's AFL council. Both carried picket signs.

The territorial attorney general was reported preparing to file a petition, asking that Bridges be held in contempt of court and duly punished.

The leader of the powerful longshore union, which has been waging a paralyzing strike at Hawaii's seven ports for more than 15 weeks, said he expected to be arrested.

Stainback announced meanwhile he has requested union and employer representatives to meet with him in his office at 11 a. m. today. The governor said he would attempt at the meeting to get collective bargaining going again.

Bridges said his action was the union's first step in a legal battle to test the constitutionality of the territory's dock seizure law.

An injunction issued by Circuit Judge Edward Towse prohibits the striking union from picketing pier activities of non-union stevedores hired by the government to load and unload ships.

DiLULLO-NAVARA

WEDDING MONDAY

Honeymooning at the Pocono Gardens of the Pocono Mountains are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Navarra, newlyweds of Monday, August 15.

The wedding, one of formal beauty, was that of Miss Delores Jean DiLullo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sol DiLullo of 811 Lutton street, and Fred Navarra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Navarra of 815 Lutton street. The impressive double ring ceremony was solemnized at the Epworth Methodist church, corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue, at 11 a. m. Rev. Albert C. Howe officiated.

Graceful cibodium ferns embanked the altar. Stately candelabra, flanked with large standards of cream white. Leading Lady gladioli presented an attractive background for the exchange of vows.

Majestic bouquets of gladioli were placed at either side of the aisle through which the bride was escorted by her father. The petite bride was an ethereal vision in a spring organza. A triple tiered hand rolled veil of imported silk illusion cascaded in soft folds from the bonnet. Her bridal bouquet was a semi-cascade of lovely cream white gladioli.

As maid of honor, Miss Delores Cuscino presented a charming picture in a pink velvet brocade gown. She wore a large crownless picture hat of lace, interfaced with pink. She carried a dainty fan, covered with white baby mums and centered with a pink gladiolus.

Misses Camille Augustine, Shirley DiLullo, cousin of the bride, Rose DiGennaro, Audrey Mooney, Janet Frank and Janet Navarra, sister of the groom as bridesmaids, were lovely in green velvet brocade gowns, styled like that of the maid of honor. Their large picture hats were fashioned after the maid of honor's, except in green. They also carried fans, with yellow baby mums and a sapphire gladiolus centered each.

Junior bridesmaid, Miss Rosalie Joyce DiLullo, cousin of the bride, was attractive in a green velvet brocade gown similar to those of the bridesmaids. Her picture hat was a smaller version of the style worn by the other attendants. Her flower covered fan was smaller than those carried by the others. Tiny flower girls, Sandra Orrico and Terry DiLullo, both cousins of the bride, were sweet in pink brocade nylon dresses. They wore dainty ruffled hats of the same material as the dresses. Petal-filled baskets with miniature corsages on the handles were carried by the girls.

Ring bearer was little David DiLullo. Harold Farris served the groom as best man. Ushers were Dick Bender, Don Gurgio, Dan Wiley, Larry Friday, William Anderson and Richard Clappie. Junior ushers were Richard Veri and Toby Fenati, an uncle of the bride, sang "At Dawning".

At 2 p. m. a dinner was held at the Hotel New Penn for one hundred fifty guests. Candelabra and white gladioli and mums graced the brides table. Pink roses were centerpieces of the other tables. Toby Fenati sang several selections.

In the evening from 7:30 till 11 a. m., a reception was held at the Castleton for five hundred guests. A six-tiered wedding cake with a musical bride and groom, centered the bridal table. Decorations were in pink and green. A popular local orchestra provided music for the evening.

The bride, a graduate of the local high school, is employed at the Mahoning Paving Company. The groom, a graduate of the local high school, is a junior at Westminster College, and also employed at the Mahoning Paving Company.

Shale Reserves Offer Tremendous Oil Pool

By ROBERT SCHAKNE
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

RIFLE, Colo., Aug. 16.—Mining and refining of shale oil reserves in three western states are expected to produce more oil for the U. S. than all the petroleum drawn from the nation's wells since the Drake well was discovered in 1859.

A process developed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for refining oil from rich shale deposits in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming could release an estimated 300 billion barrels of petroleum or nine times as much as all the oil ever produced in the country.

The government has established an experimental refinery at Rifle, Colo., which has progressed technically to the point where it is producing a trickle of commercially usable gasoline, diesel fuel, heating oil, coke and fuel gas. Test production runs are scheduled for the benefit of oil technicians and newsmen September 20.

Investigation and experimentation with shale oil began during the war when the government feared a shortage of petroleum products. Government experts believe that the production of oil from shale would add to the power of the U. S. in the event of another war.

Boyd Guthrie, chief of the Bureau of Mines experimenters, said that the shale reserve in the Colorado area surrounding Rifle is rich in oil, containing 15 to 20 gallons of refined products per ton of shale.

Guthrie explained that oil shale is really not a shale, but marlstone and contains a solid, inorganic substance known as kerogen.

To produce oil, Guthrie said, the shale must be heated to about 850 degrees Fahrenheit so that the kerogen is "cracked," or broken up into different chemical products including petroleum.

Guthrie pointed out that a combustible gas released in the "cracking" process can be used as fuel to continue the process, and thus cut down considerably in the running cost.

TRNAVA, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The church-state struggle in Czechoslovakia was pushed toward a new climax Monday by the open defiance of ten thousand faithful Catholics who attended the consecration of two new bishops in Trnava.

Picnic, August 23

On Monday afternoon, a large group of youngsters, parents and friends, gathered at Mahoningtown playgrounds.

"Impelling Sense Of Duty" Require Him To Remain In Japan

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today rejected a request by two senate committees for his return to the United States and declared that he can "best serve the national interest" by remaining in Japan.

MacArthur made his position clear in a cable to Defense Secretary Johnson who asked him yesterday for "comment as soon as possible" on the committee's request for his testimony on the arms-aid bill.

The Far Eastern commander said that "an impelling sense of duty in a position of high critical responsibility" left him with no other recourse than to remain at his post in Tokyo.

Commenting on the request of the joint senate foreign relations and armed services committees for his testimony on the arms-aid bill, MacArthur said:

"Needless to say, it is difficult for me to ignore heart-warming and friendly overtures to return to my native land for which it is only natural for me to long just as would anyone else in my circumstances.

"But an impelling sense of duty in a position of high critical responsibility leaves me with no other recourse."

Court House

Stiff Sentence
Given Local Man

Man With Record Sentenced
To Allegheny County
Workhouse On Three Counts

APPROVE DEED TO
KURTZ PROPERTY

Nicholas Manos of 28 West Long avenue, a man with a previous record in the county courts, was sentenced by Judge W. Walter Bram Monday to pay a fine of $1 and costs and serve a sentence of from 8 to 16 months in the Allegheny County Workhouse on a charge of larceny and six months each on charges of carrying concealed weapons and indecent exposure, when arraigned for sentence. Manos had previously pleaded guilty to the charge. The sentences are to run concurrently.

The prosecutor was F. B. Clouse, Pennsylvania state policeman, who arrested Manos last week in the vicinity of a swimming pool in Big Run, Shenango township.

When arrested he was found to be carrying a knife with a 12-inch blade under his shirt. In his home was found a quantity of potteryware from the Shenango Pottery Co., where he was employed. He had been sentenced from Lawrence county in 1924 for 7½ to 15 years for armed robbery.

Peter Del Boverlando, who had been before the court previously on a morals charge, and had failed to provide for the support of a minor child born out of wedlock, was sentenced to jail until he secured bond to comply with the court orders.

APPROVE KURTZ SALE

On petition of County Commissioners Joseph Gilmore, Harvey B. Bush and Joseph Travers the court on Monday gave final approval of the purchase by the county of the Kurtz property, the former home of the late Dr. John Kurtz, for the sum of $500. The residence will be razed and a modern detention home erected thereon in the near future.

The court had previously approved a petition on July 22, 1949, authorizing the purchase of the site from the Greater New Castle association for the sum of $500, and approval had also been given by the District Court of the United States of the Western District.

The petition traced the history of the property from the original grant to John C. Stewart, which was part of a donation made to Mr. Stewart of a plot of 400 acres of a tract of land and allowances known as "Hibernia."

Stewart and his wife conveyed a portion of the land to Nicholas Vaneman, who in turn sold and transferred the same to James Gillespie.

Crawford White and his wife Elizabeth White bought the land at sheriff's sale on July 7, 1917, from James Gillespie and Thomas Gillespie at the suit of Arthur Chenoweth.

John Banks and wife Catherine bought some of this ground later at sheriff's sale from John Foster and John Reynolds, administrator of Arthur Chenoweth, who it seems was part owner with Crawford White. Banks and wife sold to David Crawford, his heirs and assigns and eventually it became the property of Davis B. Kurtz and Julia M. Kurtz, his wife, who in turn conveyed it to Edward T. Kurtz and Elsie E. Kurtz, his wife. Dr. Kurtz purchased the land with the present residence thereon from W. T. Burns, referee in bankruptcy, in 1915.

By INEZ ROBB

(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The Encyclopedia Britannica includes an excellent article on court fools or jesters.

I have only one quarrel to pick with the essay. It is written in the past tense. This is a completely erroneous and misleading impression, since it afflicts the general reader with the false idea that professional buffoons no longer exist.

Far from being dead, the court jester isn't even sick. As an institution, he is alive and kicking. Furthermore, he's still doing a land office business at same old stand, which was, in and probably ever will be, on the right hand of the seats of the mighty.

All this five-per-cent business in the nation's capital, with its outlay of home freezers at a time when most of us ordinary jerk citizens couldn't even get a 25-pound cake of ice put in the top of the old refrig, is much more easily understood if we will just remember that men in high places must always have their court jesters.

It's Confusing
What tends to confuse us run-of-mill taxpayers is that the official buffoons no longer wear cap and bells. As long as the jesters wore motley, they knew their place and so did everybody else.

It is a fact that the merry Andrews now wear ordinary togs that give these jokers a sense of power and tends to confuse us yokels as to their actual position and worth.

"The fool's business was to amuse his master," says the Encyclopedia Britannica (and again I quarrel with the tense). "To excite his laughter by sharp contrast, to prevent the over-oppression of state affairs, and in harmony with a well-known physiological precept, by his liveliness at meals to develop his lord's digestion."

Excellent, say I, and a better definition of a jester's job was never writ. Let the court fool stick to his last, as hereinabove described, and I will write no more angry letters to my congressman.

A man who heads a government needs someone to "excite his laughter". A man in power requires a court fool "to prevent the over-oppression of state affairs." A man in the hot seat of the mighty must laugh occasionally or blow his silk top.

But let's have no more confusion about these Katzenjammer Kids. I herewith suggest that congress formally establish the position of court jester, with suitable salary and found. But I also insist that congress, in turn, provide that the official Joe Millers wear cap and bells.

Head Shaved
"The head was shaved," continues the Encyclopedia, "the coat was motley, and the britches tight, with generally one leg different in color from the other."

"The head was covered with a garment resembling a monk's cowl, which fell over the breast and shoulders, and often bore asses' ears, and was crested with a cock's comb, with bells hung from various parts of the attire."

"The fool's bauble was a short staff bearing a ridiculous head, to which was sometimes attached an inflated bladder, by means of which sham castigations were effected. A long petticoat was also occasionally worn, but seems to have belonged rather to the idiots than to the wits."

Okay, congressmen, I will not insist on the long petticoat. But I demand that the rest of the outfit from shaved head to bladder, although I believe some of the candidates are capable of growing their own asses' ears.

I have never resented any great I am taking his hair down with a few cronies. What I deplore is the tendency of the cronies to develop a galloping case of dementia prac-cox complicated by delusions of grandeur.

And Elsewhere
Nor do the court jesters flourish only in Washington. I was in more than one overseas military headquarters during the late war where the species came to full flower. I have in mind one particular clown whose sole qualification for the uniform he wore was the fact he had played bridge for 20 years with the general. He would have been a lot less pernicious in cap and bells.

Likewise the lady jesters. Put them in motley, too. And it might also be a good idea to see that they can neither read nor write and nourish no literary ambitions.

Clowns in motley, yes. But leave us have no more clowns in clover.

Tired Kidneys
Often Bring
Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

SOME THINGS TO DO IN FLOWER GARDENS

The following suggestions are timely tips for the flower gardeners for August:

Forget-me-nots make an attractive filler plant among tulips. Sow the seed in the tulip bed after the dead leaves of the tulips have been removed.

Bulb catalogues will soon be coming through the mail. Order your bulbs early and include among them autumn crocuses, sternbergias and colchicums. Plant these bulbs as soon as they arrive.

Replant the crown imperial (fritillaria imperialis) in late August. Thin out excess plants in the rock garden. Give them to friends and neighbors.

Transplant German irises. Japanese irises do not like an alkaline soil as do the German irises. Plants should be planted deeper than German irises.

Painted daisy seeds can be sown in a shaded location on the flower border. Transplant Oriental poppies. Local florists or nurserymen have these plants. Remove volunteer free seedlings from flower borders.

Water recently transplanted peonies frequently. Mulches of peat moss or other similar moisture retaining material is beneficial in most sections of the flower garden. This material can be applied to a depth of 1 to 1½ inches and thoroughly soaked with water.

START BUILT-UP LITTER WHEN HOUSING PULLETS

Built-up litter means added convenience and less labor, as Lawrence county poultrymen have found from experience. The best time to start this litter program is when pullets are moved into the laying house.

While the weather is still warm, the houses are open for ventilation and droppings voided in the litter quickly dry and crumble thus becoming a part of the base of the built-up litter.

A thin layer of litter is spread over the floor at first. As it breaks up, an additional layer is added at two-week intervals or in smaller quantities once a week. Since straw is the most commonly used litter, no new straw is added until the fowls have broken the litter into small lengths about two inches long.

Some grain is fed in the litter to promote further breaking of the straw as the fowls scratch in it.

As long as the litter remains dry the fowls are in good health, the litter is not removed from the pens.

When it appears to be dirty, additional litter is needed to keep it bright appearing and so a proper balance is maintained between the litter material and the dried, broken droppings.

When damp spots appear, they should be removed and dry, broken litter leveled into place before new litter is added.

With this type of litter program poultrymen have reduced the cleaning job to once or twice a year. Costs of material also have been lowered.

MANY CHILDREN WILL ENTER SCHOOL NEXT MONTH

It is particularly important when many children are looking forward to entering school for the first time that parents check to see that their child will take on certain responsibilities of his own free will. He should be able to manage his clothing, keep track of his own things and take responsibility for carrying out simple requests.

It is often hard for a mother to turn over to her child jobs that she has been doing for him all his life. Sometimes the child is eager to take on a new task as is true in the case of the twelve- to eighteen-month-old child who wants to dress himself. But there are times, too, when the mother has to set the stage in order to get her child to take responsibility.

When a situation arises that makes the child feel the need for taking responsibility, the task will have meaning for the child and he will master it more quickly. If there is a gap between what should be done and how it will affect him, the child will not connect the two readily. When this happens, getting the child to see the importance of taking responsibility becomes more of a problem. When a child sees the relation between cause and effect, discipline will be more personal and objective.

One of parents' most difficult tasks is to see and understand what responsibilities a child is capable of taking. Parents who expect too much of a child will make him feel discouraged because he knows he isn't living up to parent expectations. However, when responsibilities lag behind the child's abilities and he is able to do things he isn't doing, then the child remains babyish.

Records on ancient monuments have enabled man to trace the history of agriculture back to at least 3000 B.C.

EVENT OF THE WEEK—PLAYPOOL INVASION!

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 15—Miss Shelley Winters let loose with a great big laugh today aimed in the general direction of actresses who consider themselves too dignified to pose for cheesecake.

Shelley declared: "Any gal who refuses to show her legs just because she happens to think she is a great actress, is nothing but a chump."

No Coffee

Miss Winters made her pitch while drolled up briefly and tantalizingly for her latest film, "East of Java," which has nothing to do with coffee, at Universal-International.

Shelley said she definitely is not proud of her personal shape of things. And she also let it be known that there is nothing to prevent a girl who displayed her figure from being a good actress. She added:

"Leave us point to precedent to prove my point."

"Joan Crawford was a chorus girl. And only recently the ad campaign for one of her pictures included an abundance of 'art.'"

"Greer Garson showed her gams for nine reels not so long ago."

"And Carole Lombard, who I think was one of the greatest actresses of all time, never hesitated when it came to 'leg art.'"

As Exceptions

Shelley thinks that if a girl has a desire to become a Helen Hayes or a Katherine Cornell, then that is a different matter altogether.

She suggests that such actresses promptly take off for New York.

"But Hollywood," she said, "is in the sex-appeal tradition and to be seen in chantes before any camera is like wanting to be a lawyer without a college degree."

"That time to hide your legs," she said with finality, "is when the legs are no longer any good to look at!"

Salvation Army Plans Three Day Camp Meet

The Salvation Army will hold three days of old fashioned Camp Meetings at its summer camp near Ellwood City during Labor Day week end, September 3rd, 4th and 5th, according to an announcement made today by Lt. Colonel Ralph T. Miller, Western Pennsylvania Divisional Commander. The services will be held in the recently built Harry C. Bell Auditorium of Camp Allegheny located on Van Gorder Mill road. It is planned that two services will be held daily with a Bible study class being conducted in the morning at 10:30 a. m., and an evangelistic service in the evening at 7:45 p. m. A special musical will be given at 3:30 p. m. by the Pittsburgh Temple Corps Band, a brass choir of 30 players.

The afternoon will be free for personal rest, relaxation and recreation. There is ample space for basket-parties and reunions at the 90 acre camp.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

CATASTROPHIC

NEW YORK, (INS)—About 600 persons were killed in catastrophic accidents taking five or more lives during the first six months of 1949 in the United States. Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians say the figure is slightly lower than the same period in 1948.

WHO SUGGESTS DATE

"A man whom I like very much has just recently got a job after being without employment for some time because of illness. Consequently he is unable to take me out and spend money on me. He is always welcome to spend the evening at my house and I am always willing to take a walk with him. He calls up occasionally but never suggests coming over, although I know he would like to. I always wait for him to ask me. I approached him about this the other night. I think it's perfectly correct for him to ask if he may come over if I'm not going out, but he thinks that I should always extend the invitation. Who is right?"

Answer: Let this man know exactly how you feel about him and I think he will fully realize that you welcome his attentions despite the fact that he is unable to take you out.

I must say I admire his attitude. So many boys (who have money to spend) would rather "warm the sofa" than take a girl out. The man of whom you speak is evidently very proud and does not wish to be thought of as "cheap." If I were you, I should continue to invite him when he calls you on the telephone, inasmuch as he is so sensitive because of his lack of funds. No doubt, he is afraid of boring you with his "walks" thinking that you might prefer to be out.

dancing and making merry with more affluent boys.

Question: My fiancée is a divorced man and for that reason feels that we should not be married in a church. We are both church members and I feel that we would be happier if we marry in church. Please advise us.

Answer: You should consult your pastor. If he has no objection, you may have a church ceremony.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

STARVE TERMITES

Termites destroy $50,000,000 worth of property a year in this country. Some 200 species of termites exist, but 95 per cent of the family's damage is done by "subterranean termites," according to Federal Housing Administration officials. The best way to defeat their campaigns is to use concrete construction in house foundations which affords the termites no bill-of-fare.

Wild Cherry Leaves Poisonous If Wilted Farm Experts Warn

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Pennsylvania Farm Extension experts have warned farmers against vegetation which forms deadly prussic acid and is dangerous to livestock.

Choke and wild cherry leaves, found in abundance along fence rows, are not poisonous normally but if they wilt, as when trees or branches are cut or knocked down, the leaves form dangerous amounts of prussic acid.

Choke cherry leaves accounted for six cattle deaths in 1948, the Agriculture department said. Twelve livestock deaths were recorded in that year from various poisonings.

The common pasture weeds water hemlock and poison hemlock in wet areas also are poisonous and are a menace to livestock. Both types of hemlock grow four to six feet high and have flat-top clusters of white blossoms. The poison hemlock has fine leaves somewhat like the carrot, while the water hemlock leaves resemble parsnip leaves.

Livestock is apt to eat the young plants or second growth after mowing, the department said. Snakeroot may cause sickness in cattle and can kill sheep. It grows in shaded areas, bracken, or brake fern, common in poor pastures in northern counties, causes sickness with symptoms akin to hemorrhagic septicemia.

Prussic acid-producing cherry leaves should be guarded against by frequent patrolling of areas to remove fallen branches, particularly after storms.

Prussic acid poisoning of cattle from eating sudan grass is rare in Pennsylvania, experts say, but plants which have been stunted by drought or frost or wilted by tramping may prove dangerous.

The federal-state crop reporting service believes the production of most fresh vegetables and melons will be a little larger in August and September than a year earlier, provided they are helped by sufficient rain.

Prices of deciduous fruits this summer are expected to average lower than last year since a larger total crop is in prospect, the service forecast. Farmers this summer will receive prices for their potatoes from one-fourth to one-fifth lower than last summer.

The Franklin County Artificial Breeding cooperative reported 415 farmers have enrolled 4,200 cows in the artificial breeding program in the county.

Raymond Deardorff, of Chambersburg, the cooperative's inseminator, said since January 1 a total of 2,144 cows owned by member farmers have been bred artificially. That compared with 1,380 cows during the same period last year, he said.

Historic Sites To Be Restored

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The state is spending $328,316 to preserve and restore its principal historic sites.

The Department of Property and Supplies in a weekend report said the work is being carried out for the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum commission as part of Gov. James H. Duff's program to preserve the state's cultural and economic background.

At Drake Well Memorial Park near Titusville, $40,801 has been spent and another $6,500 worth of construction is under way on an addition to a museum dedicated to America's first oil well. The project is scheduled for completion by August 27, the 90th anniversary of the discovery of oil in the United States.

An additional $78,100 being expended to "recreate the substance and something of the spirit of the period of the great founder of Pennsylvania," at Pennsbury Manor, country home of William Penn near Morrisville.

Approximately $30,500 will be spent by the commission to restore the historic Ephrata Cloister in Lancaster county. The project consists of restoration of wooden buildings erected between 1735 and 1749 by the Seventh Day Baptists, a cooperative order.

Also being restored, at a cost of $42,000, is the Pottsgrove mansion in Montgomery county where Washington made his headquarters in September, 1777, shortly after his defeat in the battle of Brandywine.

Other restoration projects include the Daniel Boone Homestead, Berks county; Old Economy, Ambridge; and Cornwall Furnace, Lebanon county.

This week I've had a lesson on "Where the Taxpayers money goes." My small grandsons and myself, had a fine time at the Laurel Playground. The instructors are efficient and their programs were so interesting that the children found it hard to wait for the next day. I'm sorry I did not take advantage of the playgrounds when I needed them, but I made the mistake of thinking "the children are safe at home," but at the playground they learn much more than "just playing." The hobby display was real interesting. The best part of it all was the children really enjoyed everything.

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Aug. 16.—(INS)—Aaron Glaser, 44-year-old student at the Pittsburgh Institute of Refrigeration, was held in Slippery Rock today for allegedly choking his father-in-law and whipping his wife.

Slippery Rock Police Chief Gus Kelly said Glaser lashed his wife, Besella, with a length of rubber hose at the store where she was working Saturday night.

Prior to that, according to Kelly, Glaser had been prevented from strangling J. L. Friedman, 72-year-old Slippery Rock merchant, with a scarf by a neighbor who heard the father-in-law's cries.

Washington Farm News And Views

Senate Agricultural Committee Playing Around With Rural Loan Bill

TRAVEL BROADENS SAYS IOWA FARMER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The Senate Agriculture committee is still playing around with a bill to authorize government loans for improvement of rural telephone service.

The House passed the measure weeks ago.

In a nut shell, the proposal is to extend rural telephone lines to isolated localities where private companies allegedly have refused to run them.

A spokesman for the National Grange has told the Senators that the big telephone companies are skimming the cream of the market by giving service only where the demand is heavy, passing up those communities where there are only a few possible customers.

Labor and farm groups generally favor the bill. It would permit government loans to farmer cooperatives in much the same manner that the Rural Electrification Administration now operates.

Freshman Congressman Cecil F. White is much excited about what he calls erroneous reports that California's cotton acreage allotment for 1950 and 1951 will be 688 thousand acres.

White says the figure actually is about 643 thousand acres with a further reduction to approximately 574 thousand in 1952. The legislator claims that California growers are being misled by supporters of the so-called Memphis agreement.

He says he'll continue to fight in future sessions of Congress for the restoration of 69 thousand acres of cotton for California in 1952 and 55 thousand acres in 1953.

Farm and labor organizations will send their top leaders to participate in a panel discussion on farm policy at Ohio State university on September 8.

Among those going from Washington are Allan B. Klein, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Albert Goss, master of the National Grange; John Davis of the National Council of Farm Cooperatives, and James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO.

The discussion is a second-day feature of the American Country Life Conference. Several hundred persons interested in rural life are expected to take part.

From Iowa, where farmers rarely have a moment to spare from trying to keep their corn-hog economy on an even keel comes a suggestion on how producers can spend their vacations—if any.

John Fitzsimmons, an extension landscape architect from the tall corn state, says farmers can use vacation travels to broaden their knowledge of farmstead development and home grounds improvement.

Fitzsimmons suggests that a weather eye peeled to spot good layouts for a new grain storage bin, a farrowing house or a wind-break can be a helpful guide to farmers who're planning such projects.

Standing Up for Themselves

Most of us don't enjoy seeing children fuss and quarrel among themselves. The "reasonable" and "co-operative" child gets our vote of approval. Unless we are careful, we may find ourselves feeling good about the youngsters who, in order to keep things running smoothly, really let others run over him.

Some parents advise their youngsters to "hit back" on each and every occasion in which there may be the slightest provocation. We needn't accept this in order to avoid the opposite extreme of "taking" everything.

A youngster at school may dominate all the others either because of superior arm muscles or similarly strong tongue muscles. Teachers and parents alike should give moral encouragement to those dominated to stand up for themselves and not always depend on a little dictator.

Learning to stand up for themselves brings children real self-respect. I still remember the time when our twins, who when young were rather shy, delightedly told how they had said, "So what?" when the current classroom "boss" threatened not to let them play unless they followed her wishes. This first resistance to junior-style dictatorship was a red-letter day for them.

Nationalization Feared By Thomas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Sen. Thomas (D) Okla., told the Senate Monday that House funds voted for the Southwestern Power Administration would "lead to the nationalization of the electric industry."

Opening the second day of debate on the 500 million dollar Interior department money bill, Thomas defended the Senate Appropriations committee's recommendation of $3,874,020 in cash and contract authority for the six-state power agency. The Senate bill cuts the House allowance of $9,060,000 by $5,125,980.

Thomas warned that if the Senate approves the House figure, it will commit itself to a total outlay of 31 million dollars to be spent by SPA in the next three years.

Show Concern For Political Dangers In British Crisis

Diplomatic Observers See Dangers In Anglo-American Discussions of Financial Crisis

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Diplomatic observers shower concern Monday over potential political dangers in the forthcoming Anglo-American discussions of Britain's financial crisis.

The talks are to begin about September 10, when British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and Chancellor of Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps come to Washington.

United States experts in all branches of the government are giving the problem extensive study but have failed to come up with a solution.

As viewed here, the problem resolves itself into a seeming impasse. The British, it is believed, would like:

1. A substantial dollar loan to tide them over the dollar crisis.
2. A reduction in tariffs to permit British goods to compete in this country with domestic consumer goods.

These are automatically ruled out as politically impossible.

Congress is not likely to consent to either.

The United States is known to feel that Britain could:

1. Devalue the pound, which would lower the price of goods which Britain wants to sell in the dollar area.
2. Improve her productive efficiency, which, in view of Britain's historic industrial practices, would probably require longer working hours, lower wages or a stepped up rate of production.

Cripps himself has said that the pound would not be devalued while he was in office. He is recuperating from an illness in Switzerland, but there is nothing to indicate he will not return in preparation for the Washington talks and participate in them.

Officials also doubt that devaluation would prove of any long range benefit. While it might stimulate some dollar sales, it would also make the pound less valuable for the purchase of raw materials which Britain needs for her industrial machine.

It is also recognized that an attempt to impose heavier burdens on British labor would have violent political repercussions within Britain, particularly for the Labor government.

Rep. Lemke Claims Ex-Congressmen Are "Percenter"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Rep. Lemke, (R) N. D., declared Monday that former members of Congress are active in the ranks of "five percenters" operating in Washington.

The North Dakotan asserted that "a number of congressmen have even resigned to accept jobs at large salaries."

Of course, these ex-members are expected to lobby on the floor, and to use their former friendship and close association with members in order to get favorable legislation for their particular industry or monopoly, or to prevent adverse legislation.

CALLS POLICE FOR OWN MISCONDUCT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Police got an anonymous telephone call. They sped to the home of Eugene Jackson and arrested him for disorderly conduct.

The case was dismissed when later in court Jackson explained that he and his wife were arguing and "I was afraid I was going to have trouble with her."

"You see," he added, "I was the one who called the police to come and get me."

Competition Looms In Channel Swim For Shirley May

Belgian Hero, Ferdinand DeMoulin, To Try Channel Swim Same Time As U. S. Swimmer

DOVER, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Shirley May France faces the double challenge of the English Channel tides and a male Belgian competitor in her effort to swim the treacherous stretch of water.

The 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., girl posed with husky six-foot Ferdinand De Moulin Sunday afternoon in a friendly hand-shaking attitude.

Later De Moulin, a wealthy hero of the wartime underground who was decorated personally by General Dwight Eisenhower for rescuing 21 pilots, announced that he planned to enter the water at the same time as Shirley May and beat her by "at least an hour."

Asked why he had put his Channel bid forward from the end of the month to the same time as Shirley May's try, De Moulin said: "That's my business but I'm going to prove this is still a man's world."

The shapely high school girl said in bewilderment: "I don't know what he means. After all the trouble I went through to pose with him for the picture it's a puzzle to me."

The Belgian is not regarded by newsmen in Dover as a publicity seeker. They believe his pride may have been hurt when the young girl rated star billing among the five channel swimmers from Holland, England, Denmark, Belgium and the United States.

Meanwhile, Shirley May's coach, Harry Boudakian, was delighted with the steady improvement in the weather. The Channel is calmer than at any time since they arrived in England.

"Spare Their Lives" Counsel Asks Jury

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The defense in the "lonely hearts" murder trial today asked a Bronx Supreme Court jury to spare stout Martha Beck, 29, and her paramour, Raymond Fernandez, 34, from the electric chair.

"The only thing I'm going to plead for is their lives and nothing else," said Herbert Rosenberg, defense counsel, as he launched his final plea.

The 200-pound Mrs. Beck and Fernandez sat with clasped hands, hanging on every word as Rosenberg opened a summation expected to last all day.

The pair have been on trial since June 9 before Justice Ferdinand Pecora, for the alleged hammer and scarf slaying of Mrs. Janet Fay, 66, in Valley Stream, L. I., last January 4.

Russia Succeeded In Espionage Try Says Committee

Succeeded In One Of Three Attempts To Steal Atomic Secrets From Laboratory

By SAM FOGG

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The House Un-American Activities Committee reported Monday that Russia has succeeded in one of three attempts to steal atomic secrets from a west coast wartime research laboratory.

The disclosure was made in a forward issued to the printed transcript of testimony heard by the spy probes earlier this year.

They identified the successful espionage attempt as that involving the so-called "Scientist X," who has never been identified.

Details on the other two efforts to steal secrets out of the radiation laboratory at the University of California were not given.

In outlining testimony heard this session about a subversive Communist cell formed at the Berkeley, Calif., laboratory during the war, the committee document asserted:

"The Communist cell which existed at the radiation laboratory at the University of California . . . was responsible for two attempts to obtain information regarding atomic development on the part of the Soviet government and one positive case of Soviet espionage, the latter case being the Scientist X case."

The Scientist X case was brought to light by the House group last year. The committee produced evidence that a scientist at the laboratory turned over a secret atomic formula to Steve Nelson, now a Communist party organizer in western Pennsylvania.

Nelson, according to the committee, subsequently met with a Soviet consular official in San Francisco, turned over papers to him and afterwards received payment from the Russian agent.

The testimony printed by the committee was given by Dr. Frank Oppenheimer and his wife, Jacqueline; Nelson, atomic scientists Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz, David Bohm and Joseph Weinberg, and Robert R. Davis and his wife, Charlotte.

The committee forward declared:

"There is no evidence in the possession of the committee which would indicate that the witnesses Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz, David Bohm, Frank Oppenheimer, Jacqueline Oppenheimer, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Davis were engaged in espionage."

Report Death Of Communist Leader

CANTON, Aug. 16.—(INS)—A Nationalist military spokesman reported today that Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung died of tuberculosis in Peiping on July 17.

There have been numerous recent reports that Mao, dynamic leader held chiefly responsible for Communist victories in Northern China, has been seriously ill.

These previous reports emphasized the fact that Mao has made no public appearances despite the successes of his armies, which in rapid succession overran Tientsin, Peiping and Nanking and then launched a drive southward toward Canton.

Mao, who founded the Chinese Communist party in 1921 after education and indoctrination in Moscow, was born in 1893.

Only last month he formally and publicly allied Chinese and Soviet Communism.

He was married three times and had one son and one daughter.

Mao's Communist party activities date back to 1921. His military leadership of China's Communists began six years later when he organized a military rebellion in Hunan province.

This successful undertaking led to formation of China's Communist army, which played an important role against the Japanese and later was enlarged into the present force that has conquered large areas of China.

Mao taught both Communist political philosophies and military strategy at the Marx-Lenin institute in Yenan. He bore the joint titles of Marshal of the Red Army and Chairman of the Chinese Communist party.

Aged Woman's Hobby Blessing To Blind

By JOHN McCafferty
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—If they take reservations in heaven, there certainly must be a choice spot set aside today for kindly, understanding 76-year-old Mrs. S. E. Downs or nearby Lower Merion. For a quarter of a century, this "grand old lady" has been literally "opening windows" for the blind by transcribing books of every description into Braille.

An ordinary sewing machine, used to stitch the diagrams, is her means of performing this difficult task.

Apostle of Braille

Mrs. Downs, wife of a retired Lower Merion school superintendent, has lived unheeded down through the years as an apostle of Louis Braille, originator of the "learn by touch" system which gives "sight" to the blind.

Amiable, spry and exceptional witty, Mrs. Downs has labored without thought of personal gain in her determination to help the blind "see" with Braille.

The pleasant Mrs. Downs transcribes almost every concept in the field of human knowledge into Braille by sewing six raised dots in varying combinations.

She has transcribed books on everything from astronomy to the Amharic language and even including a book on crocheting.

All her work is done for blind students who depend upon Braille for study purposes. Said Mrs. Downs:

"When you know an eager student is simply panting for your transcription in order to keep up with his moving classes, you feel your pressing responsibility."

Mrs. Downs gives her transcription chores priority over all else. She said that "in case of conflict" with other things in her life, her rule is:

"This one thing I do."

Over 30,000 Pages

Her output has surpassed 30,000 pages in Braille, an amazing performance for one person in a work which requires such deep concentration, patience and skill.

Twenty-four volumes of her work are in the Braille department of the Library of Congress.

Mrs. Downs' Braille transcriptions have gone all over the world, even into darkest Africa.

Blind Ato Siyom Walde Maram wrote her recently from Addis Ababa that a transcription of the Gospel of St. John which Mrs. Downs had done in the Amharic language was correct in every detail. He said:

"There is no mistake whatsoever in it nor is anything lacking. I have presented your good work to God."

(The Amharic language is virtually extinct. It has 37 consonants, each having seven vowel modifications. With the diphthongs, the number of letters in the alphabet totals 251.)

But Mrs. Downs brushes off her work lightly and says Braille transcription isn't too difficult for anyone with "patience, dogged persistence, and a certain ingenuity."

Her one hope is that more persons would take up the work, for she feels much more must be done to help the blind "see."

She sums up her work thusly:

"For myself, the many hours spent at my desk have been deeply rewarding. I like to think of Braille as a magic carpet which takes me to many countries and gives me contact with many people of varied nationalities."

Philadelphia Is Host To W.C.T.U.

Organization's 75th Annual Convention Opens; Thousands To Hear W.C.T.U.'s Program

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—(INS)—A petticoat army of teetotalers descended upon Philadelphia today to urge one and all to bend an ear instead of an elbow and heed the clarion call.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union wagon rolled into town with the familiar entreaties to climb down from the barroom stool and get aboard the wagon.

The ladies, who become plenty scrappy in teaching others to be temperate, are celebrating their diamond jubilee, with the organization's 75th annual convention opening today and continuing through August 24.

Some 3,000 delegates and visitors are expected to hear the WCTU's program for waging an increased war on alcoholic beverages and narcotic drugs.

The convention marks the founding of the organization in Cleveland, O., in 1874, to "make permanent" the work of the women's temperance crusade, in which women's "leagues" the year previously marched on and closed saloons in 250 communities in 22 states.

In the crusade, groups of women kneel in barrooms and in the snow outside, praying that the saloons might be closed. The chapter in Americana was immortalized by a now famous engraving, "Here They Come," of women marching, Bibles in hand, on bars and barkeepers.

The WCTU's membership approximates 400,000 women in 10,000 state, district, county and local unions in every state, territory and insular possession. For years Pennsylvania has had the largest membership of any state.

New Shrine Head In Youngstown, O.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 16.—(INS)—Between four and five thousand Shrine men were to welcome Imperial Potentate Harold Lloyd to Youngstown today.

His first official act as head of Shrinism concerns initiation of a class of 400 into Al Koran of Cleveland.

About 50 marching units of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, including the Syria Temple of Pittsburgh, largest in North America, will parade today.

Lloyd, a comedy star of silent films, will be honored at a luncheon to open the two-day ceremonies, while his wife will be guest of the ladies of the Shrine at another luncheon.

Shriners have scheduled an all-day outing at the Tippecanoe Country Club for tomorrow.

"Drink Bill" Nearly Nine Billion In U. S. Says WCTU President

Tells Annual Convention That Americans Guzzle 3,000,000 Gallons A Year

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, said today that the American "drink bill" for liquor, wine and beer now is nearly $9,000,000,000 annually.

The Evanston, Ill., woman told the 75th annual WCTU convention that Americans guzzle nearly 3,000,000 gallons of intoxicants each year.

Mrs. Colvin, calling for a return to prohibition, said there are 466,000 saloons, taverns, and other alcoholic beverage selling places open in the U. S.

She charged that the "all-time high in alcoholism and excessive drinking" in the nation has "created more than 4,000,000 alcoholics and chronic drinkers."

Mrs. Colvin said congressional action plus prohibition are necessary to "outlaw" alcoholism in the country. She added:

"Drink is the first step of the individual away from religion, social and family responsibility."

Mrs. Colvin declared that the "rising tide of alcohol is creating a ballot-box revolt" in the U. S.

"More than one-third of the population," she added, "is in the temper to vote for prohibition if given the opportunity."

Buzard Candidate For Sheriff Post

Ellwood City Man Seeks Democratic Nomination At September 13 Primary

C. METHENY BUZARD

I wish to announce my candidacy for Sheriff of Lawrence County on the Democratic ticket. I have been a life-long resident of the county and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

As a civilian I have been employed by the U. S. Steel Company, Matthews Conveyor Company, and as a correspondent for the U. S. Gypsum Co.

During, and before, World War II, I served as officer-in-charge of three service schools; the most important being the Lansing Section of the Ordnance School, sponsored by the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors. I served in Africa as a liaison officer and in Italy and France as a captain with the 45th Infantry Division.

I believe that such a person, with a background of proven leadership, responsibility and training is what Lawrence County needs for the impartial execution of the duties of Sheriff.

I shall appreciate your support in the coming election.

Respectfully, C. METHENY BUZARD (Political Advertisement)

Administration Playing Possum Game Says Taft

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, today accused the administration of playing a "possum game" to lull opponents of President Truman's proposal to create a federal department of welfare.

The president's reorganization plan No. 1, which would convert the federal security agency into a cabinet department, admittedly will result in a "close vote" either way.

Taft is leading Republican opposition to the proposal. The plan is scheduled for senate consideration today, with debate limited to 10 hours under terms of the reorganization act.

The Ohio senator said administration leaders are trying to convince opponents that they are ready to admit defeat while the White House is bringing "pressure" on Democrats to support the plan.

Senate Majority Leader Lucas, Ill., has advised the senate that there will be a night session, if necessary, to get a vote today.

Wealthy Pittsburgh Man Appears Winner Against City Opera

Mayor Lawrence Concedes Victory To King In Fight Against Opera Sight

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Wealthy Robert E. King appeared today to have won his battle against Pittsburgh's effort to construct a $1,000,000 civic light opera site on part of his Highland park area estate.

Mayor David L. Lawrence practically conceded victory to King and his small band of neighborhood supporters when he asked the Allegheny conference on community development to continue the light opera at Pitt stadium next summer.

Officials at the University of Pittsburgh were not available for comment concerning use of the stadium. The past four years the university has been forced to curtail its Spring sports program because of the opera.

Lawrence said yesterday he would refer selection of a site to the City Planning commission for study, hearings and recommendation.

In the meantime city attorneys will go before Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas M. Marshall today and ask for an indefinite continuance of a property owners' suit to enjoin the city from condemning private property for the site. Judge Marshall had issued a temporary restraining order which prevented the city from continuing engineering surveys on the King property.

The 74-year-old King, a retired real estate broker, had taken the matter to court—supported by some of his neighbors—two weeks before.

Lonely Hearts Trial Approaching Finish

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The trial of the "lonely hearts" killers in Bronx supreme court neared its end today with defense counsel allowed one more hour for his plea to the jury.

Justice Pecora announced yesterday that he would charge the jury tomorrow, leaving only today for the prosecution to sum up after defense counsel Herbert E. Rosenberg has his hour.

On trial are Martha Beck and her lover, Raymond Martinez Fernandez, charged with the murder and scarf slaying of Mrs. Janet Fay, 66-year-old Albany widow, in a house at Valley Stream, L. I., last Jan. 4.

Apparently discarding his defense of insanity, Rosenberg yesterday told the jury that it would have been impossible for Mrs. Beck to have struck the blows that killed Mrs. Fay because she was left handed.

The most primitive of the woodwind instruments is the fife or flute.

'Queen' Carol Campbell Crowned At Laurel Playground Monday

Crowning of the Laurel Avenue Playground Queen took place Monday afternoon, as little Miss Claudia Linton adorned the head of Miss Carol Campbell with the diadem. The Queen and Court are: Misses Eileen Logan, Dolly Brush, Sally Barnes, Rose Marie Palmer, Joan Palmer, Joan Carlikito, Claudia Linton, Crown bearer, and Carol Campbell, Queen.

In a ceremony of beauty, Miss Carol Campbell was crowned the queen of Laurel playground on Monday afternoon, August 15.

Her Majesty's attendants, charmingly attired in summer gowns of white, began their procession at 4 p. m. The young girls, the Misses Eileen Logan, Dolly Brush, Sally Barnes, Rose Marie Palmer, Joan Palmer, and Joan Carlikito, proceeded from the stage to the beautifully decorated throne. Crown bearer was little Claudia Linton. Miss Campbell followed the group to take her place on the throne.

Following the coronation, the Amateur club of the playground entertained the queen and her court with a delightful program. Master Rees Flannery opened the program with a trumpet solo.

"Dark Town Struthers Ball" and "Take Me Out To the Ball Game" were selections sung by Miss Theresa Palmer. Joe DeVivo played two numbers on his clarinet.

Some "Hollywood" stars dropped in for the afternoon, and presented a short play entitled "A Date For Judy". The mother was Katherine Hepburn Seeger; father was portrayed by Pat O'Brien Barnes. Judy was Amelia Aihart Bernd, and Randolph, the tormenting brother, was played by Kathy Grayson Hite.

Jeannette "Barbara Baer" McDonald sang "Picnic" in the Park and "Teddy Bear's Picnic". Miss Janice DeVivo, Miss South America, did a few dance numbers. Success of the program was due to the cooperation of many of the playground participants. Kenny Jacobs and Ted Linton were on the curtain committee. Ushers of the day were Bill Vaughn, Henry Anderson, Chuckie Dugan, and Bob Palmer. Joan Palmer arranged the program, and Jean Palmer was the mistress of ceremonies for the afternoon. Thanks are also extended to the local merchants who helped to make the day the success which it was.

Miss Winifred Kisthardt and Ted Lewis, instructors at Laurel, arranged and presented the coronation of the playground queen. Through their efforts the youngsters worked and planned the program.

Reservations are to be made with the instructors for the Play Day at Gaston park, on Wednesday, August 24.

State Purchases Toll Bridge Today

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today formally signed a contract for the state's purchase of the Clark's ferry toll bridge over the Susquehanna river for $537,000.

The governor signed the agreement in the presence of the bridge company's principle stockholders, Paul Ellenberger, vice-president, and John D. Leib, assistant secretary, both of the Capital Bank and Trust company of Harrisburg.

"This has been talked about for a generation," Duff said. "This is it," he declared emphasizing the contract is "an absolutely conclusive agreement."

Under the contract the state will pay holders of 5,000 shares of stock $75 a share and will assume the company's outstanding debt of $162,000.

Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock said negotiations for the purchase of the Market street bridge at Harrisburg for $3,850,000 "are nearly complete". He said principle stockholders have agreed to sell.

The contract was the first in the campaign to free the state's toll bridges under a $10,000,000 bond issue approved by the electorate.

Smock said negotiations have progressed for purchase of six other bridges and conferences were expected to begin on the remaining two in the near future.

Ruth Nichol's Luck Again Cheats Death

ENNIS, Ireland, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Lucky Ruth Nichol's escape from her fifth miraculous escape from aerial disaster today and made plans to continue her current "round-the-world flight."

The American aviatrix, one of 49 persons saved yesterday when a trans-oceanic airliner crash-landed in the Atlantic ocean off Ireland, said from her bed.

"I intend to continue my round the world flight as soon as possible."

The 48-year-old flyer—holder of many "firsts" in aviation—suffered from shock and exposure after her ordeal. Miss Nichol, on a globe circling junket for a children's organization, was working as a voluntary stewardess.

Among Miss Nichol's notable achievements was a one-stop flight from Los Angeles to New York in Dec. 1930, completed in 13 hours, 21 minutes and 48 seconds—more than an hour faster than Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's time for a similar flight.

Her first bad crash was in New Brunswick, where she sustained two cracked vertebrae. On a take-off from Troy, N. Y., her co-pilot was killed and four others injured. In 1935, she escaped from a plane burning in the air, by parachuting. She also narrowly averted death in a crash in Vienna.

Rev. H. J. Payden Speaks To Rotarians

Local Colored Pastor Spoke Yesterday On "The Negro And The Organization"

"If the Negro could be thought of as a man or woman rather than a colored man or woman, America, great country that she is, could not only be a great country in name but also in organization."

So said Rev. Henry J. Payden, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist church, in an address given for the regular Monday luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Castleton hotel.

Rev. Payden, who was in the 9th cavalry and on an army boxing and judo team during the war said that equality is not based on background, creed, or color which are the segregation qualifications, but equality should be based on intellect.

"Laws and orders that are supposed to govern social equality are merely laws of writing, and they are not really practiced and enforced by those that are in a position to do so," said Payden.

He pointed out that the act of the Rotary Club of inviting some one like himself from the outside in to speak showed consciousness and concern over current affairs the lack of which is keeping us from being an organization.

At the conclusion of his speech, "The Negro and the Organization" the following three items were given by Rev. Payden as a solution to the problem:

"More people that are in a position to indoctrinate against segregation ought to do so rather than yielding to environment or society.

"We are all highly influenced by our friends and many would be more amiable toward the Negro, Jew or Italian—so called minority groups—if we thought that our friends would not mind."

"More study should be given by each to each, considered race education. Our minds need to be disciplined toward correct thinking upon which we will find ourselves organized Americans."

Former Marine Continues Series

Sergeant "Bob" Frost, formerly of the U. S. Marines, continues his series of special evangelistic services begun Sunday in the Hoover Heights Alliance Tabernacle, South New Castle. Crowds are increasing nightly at each service.

Mr. Frost, who served in the Pacific, tells of the working of God in that district. The sergeant was among the first boys who invaded Guadalcanal. His transport was hit during the trip.

The unusual speaker will be heard this evening at 7:30 and each night this week closing on Sunday. Special music is being presented at each service.

Flies can walk upside down on the ceiling of a room because there is a tiny pad on the end of each foot that is hollow in the center. This creates a suction when the fly's foot is pressed on the surface.

Clowns And Homestead Grays Will Put On Real Show Here

When those clowning, hustling Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League face the Homestead Grays at P. J. Flaherty Memorial Field on Tuesday night, August 23, the fans of this area will be treated to one of the greatest pantomime shows ever presented on any baseball diamond. To truly appreciate and enjoy the show, it must be witnessed since the performance put on beggars description.

Headlining the diamond circus will be the inimitable King Tut and the clever Juggling Joe Taylor. To this dynamic duo has been added the person of Spec Bebo, 3½ foot diamond comedian who has kept fans and players howling with mirth since he joined the club early this season. Mix-in the popular antics of the one and only Reece "Goose" Tatum and you have the answer why the Clowns have been packing parks everywhere they are booked to appear.

New Shortstop

The acquisition of Jesse H. Williams, formerly of the Kansas City Monarchs, at shortstop for the Clowns, has given the "imps of the diamond" the best defensive infield in the Negro American League. Williams, coupled with either Ray Neil or Sherwood Brewer at second base, gives the funmakers a combination destined to set a new league record for double-play killings.

To all this add the return of Edward A. Davis, better known to fans as "Peanuts Nyasses," and the Clowns' hurling staff has been given new strength.

There is plenty of hitting power in the Clowns' lineup this year too, with Len Pigg Charlie Wilson, Sam Hairston, Lester "Big Spoon" Witherspoon and newcomer Charley Garner in the cleanup slot, capable of hitting the horseshoe out of the park any time, and making their long clouts count in the close games.

Shamrocks-DeCarbo's Meet In Fifth Game Wednesday Evening

Fifth and what should be the final game of playoff series between the Shamrocks and DeCarbo's will be played Wednesday night at Dean park, league officials announce.

Managers Quinto and Calazza agreed on "Tuffy" Coppel, Jim Abraham, Dom Cioffi or Tony Mike for umpires at the game.

Wednesday's game should climax one of the most hotly contested softball series ever played in New Castle. It will be the fifth game of what was supposed to be a three game series.

The winner of Wednesday's game, if there is a winner, will meet the Moose for the city softball championship. Pitchers for the game will be announced tomorrow.

Sammy Calazza Hits Three Run Homer In Sixth For Second Tie Game, 8-8

Sammy Calazza came through with a three run home run in the last half of the sixth last night at Dean park to give the DeCarbo Bombers an 8 to 8 tie with the Shamrocks.

It was the second consecutive tie by the two teams in the city softball league playoffs. Shamrocks won the first game of the Calazza's won the second game. The third game was played Friday night and ended in a 5 to 5 tie when the Shamrocks rallied to tie it up.

Calazza's home run came with two out in the sixth with Conti and DeLillo on base.

Fannin had two hits in the fourth inning for the Shamrocks as they touched Rhodes for seven hits and seven runs. He settled down after that inning, however, and shut them out the rest of the way.

Suzow went all the way for the Shamrocks and held the DeCarbo's to eight hits. Miller, Quinto and Fannin each had two hits apiece for the Shamrocks and DeLillo, Red Ross and De Muccio had two for the Bombers.

Last week's show was one of the most thrilling staged at Canfield in several years. The 25 daredevils spun around the quarter-mile strip at breakneck speed in their modified stock cars, Jam-ups, spin-outs, crashes into light poles and through the northwest gate electrified 6,400 onlookers.

The line up includes Iggy Katona, winner of the 50-lap feature last week; John Fredericks, George Jackson, Buddy Huesman, Shorty Mitchell, Gays Biro; "Little Beaver" Bob Rodabaugh, Al Metz, Jim Florian, Mike Little, Elmer Wilson, Chuck Holliday, Buck Sager and Kenmore.

Mrozek and Magusiak had three hits apiece for the Lawrence Indies with one of Magusiak's going for three bases. Russo and Romeo had doubles.

The Civics had a three-run lead going into the fourth inning when the Indies scored four runs to go ahead 5-3. The Civics came back to score one in the fifth to make it 5-4, but the Lawrence Indies broke out with a rash of hits in the fifth and sixth to sew it up.

Officials of the City Baseball league finished plans for the league playoffs at their last meeting before the playoffs at Carms last night.

The league will end August 18, it was announced, and the playoffs will begin Sunday, August 21, with the first place team meeting the third place team. The second place team will meet the fourth place team on Monday.

In case of a tie between the Universals and West Pittsburg for first place, the two teams will play off the tie Friday, August 19, at Lawrence Indies' Chmura field. Umpires for the playoffs were selected by the managers at the meeting.

The following games remain to be played in the league:

Girls To Play Baseball Here

Chicago Colleens And Springfield Sallies Will Play Here Aug. 24 And 25

You have seen them in the movies, you have read about them in Colliers and Life Magazines, so now see them in action. Why? Those glamorous darlings of baseball, the Chicago Colleens and the Springfield Sallies of the All American Girls Baseball League. These two teams will play two games in New Castle on Wednesday and Thursday, August 24-25, at P. J. Flaherty field. Game time at 8:15.

The base ball fans will be treated to one of the finest baseball attractions, offered before to only the larger cities, and the first chance in this vicinity to see these famous girl teams in action.

Real Baseball
Real baseball—not softball—is the exciting sport played by these two top flight teams. Swift overball requires standard big league hand pitching with a fast ten inch equipment as worn by the girls. Most thrilling to witness. Home run hitting and daring base running is something these lassies give out with.

Playing under big league rules, with the base paths the only exception, the girls really go all out to win. Rhubarbs with the umpires go hand in hand to make the game exciting.

Baseball records will surely be broken when these two teams meet in a regular game. Prices are $1.25 for box seats, with all others going at $1.00. Children under 12 will be admitted for 25c. Bring out the family and enjoy a real night of big league baseball.

Butler Tigers Trim Nats 5-2

New Castle Nats Leave 14 Men Stranded On Bases, Outhit Butler

(Special To The News)
BUTLER, Aug. 16.—The New Castle Nats couldn't hit with men on last night and they bowed to the Butler Tigers, 5 to 2, in a fast, well played game.

The Senators left 14 men stranded on the base paths as Pritchard notched his 10th triumph of the season against seven defeats. Only in the second did they fail to get men on base.

The Tigers landed on Joe Karakul for runs in the first, second and third, their three-run outburst in the third clinching the triumph.

The Nats stole the thunder of the Tigers, getting 11 hits and six walks, but they couldn't produce. Bill Torrey with three for five and Hilty Shapiro with three for four, led the Senators' attack.

Stellar Fielding
Stellar fielding by Ray Turzow in center field and Paul Cabanaw at second featured the contest. Both clubs played errorless ball. The Tigers went out in front in the first when with two out

Philadelphia Downs Yankees, Indians-Red Sox Gain Ground

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The New York Yankees, who appeared to have set up squatter's rights on top spot in the American League, today were placed in the precarious position of having their long-time lease terminated.

Casey Stengel's crew is shuffling along in the pennant drive just three games ahead of the converging Red Sox and four ahead of the Indians.

Macks Win 9-5

The Philadelphia's A's handed the Yanks a 9 to 5 pasting last night, scoring five runs in the sixth inning. Ferris Fain's bases-loaded single, his second of the game, and Sam Chapman's double highlighted the frame. Carl Scheib won his eighth game for the Mackmen.

The Red Sox made it seven straight and six in a row over their Washington "cousins" when they scored two runs in the eleventh to eke out a 3 to 2 win over the Senators. Doubles by pinch hitter Billy Goodman and Dom DiMaggio and Ted Williams single provided the necessary markers for Joe Dobson's tenth triumph.

Indians Scalp Tigers

A pinch-hit single by Hal Peck with the bases loaded in the tenth gave the Cleveland Indians a 4 to 3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. It broke up a duel between Hal Newhouse and Bob Feller, and gave Cleveland's rejuvenated outfielder his twelfth victory and sixth in a row.

Al Wertz had put the Bengals ahead with a two run circuit clout in the ninth, but Bob Kennedy sent a blast into the stands in the bottom half of the frame.

Lefty Bill Wight of the Chicago White Sox rationed the St. Louis Browns to two hits as he shut them out 8 to 0.

Cardinals Win

The veteran Harry Brecheen hurled the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs and cut the idle Brooklyn Dodgers' National League lead to one-half game. It was the left-hander's 10th win and he aided his own cause by smashing out three hits. Stan Musial hit his 20th circuit clout, an inside-the-park belt, in the fifth with none on.

In the only other senior circuit game played, the Pirates out-slugged the Cincinnati Reds, 9 to 7. Ralph Kiner hit home run number 32 with one on. Danny Litwhiler and Grady Hatton each tagged round-trippers for the losers.

UMPIRES ASSIGNED FOR LEAGUE GAMES

Ezzard Charles is perhaps the strangest heavyweight champion yet produced. He has attained a measure of glory which he sought to elude and would have succeeded in avoiding if Joe Louis had not retired.

Ellwood Fight Fans Excited

Matchmaker Ray Loccisano Has Arranged Great Five-Bout Card For Tonight

Firemen's boxing show is ready to get under way tonight at 8:30 at Lincoln high school football field in Ellwood City.

Tonight's show is regarded as one of the best that he has ever arranged by matchmaker Ray Loccisano. Five bouts are offered on the card, with two eight round features.

Chuck Higgins, Youngstown middleweight, meets Jimmy Guy, Detroit, in what will probably be the top match of the evening. Higgins, defeated only once in pro ranks, is in top condition for this, his second match with Guy. The first match was won by Higgins by a split decision in Ellwood, March 22.

Neal vs. Coffey
The other feature bout has Bobby Neal, of Beaver Falls, against Willard Coffey, Charleston, W. Va. Neal, well known by local fight fans, looks for a tough fight from the little known West Virginia 150-pounder.

Five round fights on the card show Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, against Buddy Wells, Sharpburg, and Roy Crews, Ellwood middleweight, versus Jack Botonovich, Rochester.

FOOTBALL STAR TOO

LEWISBURG, Pa.—(INS)—Although remembered for his baseball deeds, Christy Mathewson was an outstanding football player during his college days. He was a precision drop-kicker at Bucknell University and listed among his touchdowns is a 90-yard run against Susquehanna in 1899. Matty was a fullback.

Pirates Employ Platoon System

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 16.—(INS)—Could it be that the Pirates are switching to the two-platoon system? In those two triumphs over the St. Louis Cardinals over last week end, the Buc manager indicated he might be following the example of Brooklyn's Burt Shotton and Boston's Billy Southworth—putting his right-handed batters in against left-handers, and vice versa.

It worked quite well, too. Saturday night, Dixie Walker came off the bench to play right field and got three hits in four times at bat against George Mungler and Ted Wilks, driving in two runs and scoring one in a 6-3 victory.

Lefty Tom Saffell added two hits, and Johnny Hopp got one. Thus, the Johnny-siders got six of the 11 Pirate hits, scored three of the six runs and batted in three. Walker and Hopp were benched. Walker's replacement, Wally Westlake, had two hits, driving in a tally. Jack Phillips, who replaced Hopp had one hit and scored once.

The only thing wrong with the story is that Saffell stayed in the lineup, batted left-handed against Ted Howie Pollet and scored a run. The switches may have been just a coincidence. Manager Bill Meyer, who is incapacitated by indigestion at his home in Pittsburgh, didn't care to discuss the subject today.

But the results were interesting.

Monday afternoon, we have plenty of buyers for all classes of livestock. Bring what you have to sell and buy what you want. Any business you send to us will be highly appreciated. Our motto: "A square deal with everyone."

North Carolina Textile Worker Picks Up Check For $10,000

By KEN OPSTEIN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Boysie Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., who used to think two-bits must be most of the money in the world, today pocketed a $10,000 check, earned by licking Jaunty Jimmy Demaret in a playoff for the world pro golf title in Chicago.

Palmer, a 31-year-old former caddy and textile mill hand, fired a four under par 68 in the 18-hole extra round yesterday to defeat the Ojai, Cal., linksman by two strokes.

As a consolation prize, golf's glamour boy received $7,000 from George S. May who promoted the links extravaganza at his Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

Also Gets Trophy
To go with the pocket money, Palmer received a huge trophy, emblematic of the exalted position he now holds. What probably made Johnny just as happy was the fact that the $10,000 check put him third among the year's leading money winners.

The North Carolinian led almost from start to finish in the round followed by an estimated 2,500 spectators. An eagle on the 49th yard second foreshadowed what was to come.

Palmer toured the out nine in 34 to Demaret's 36. The Badin star took a like number of strokes coming home and was equaled by the Californian on the trip to the clubhouse.

Johnny's real break came on the 16th when his tee shot headed for the rough, but ran into a spectator enroute and bounced into the fairway.

FORT FOR SALE
FORT STEVENS, Ore.—(INS)—Century-old Fort Stevens, whose armaments could have blown the Confederate fleet out of the mouth of the Columbia river, is being offered for sale by the government as obsolete. It is estimated that $200,000 would pay the old installation.

Dr. Clyde Meadows To Speak In City

City Council of Churches Plans Preaching Mission in City From October 3 to 7

New Castle Council of Churches executive committee met in session on Monday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church, when plans were made for a preaching mission to be conducted in the city from October 3 to 7, 1949.

Worrell Jones, president of the council, announced that Dr. Clyde Meadows, pastor of the King Street United Brethren church, Chambersburg, Pa., has been secured as the speaker. Dr. Meadows has one of the largest Sunday schools in the state having 1,000 members in attendance. He is an author of note and is much in demand as a convention and conference speaker.

A prayer committee is to be announced which will conduct prayer services in the churches prior to the actual campaign. Rev. Oliver W. Hurst has been named as song leader and will secure special music for the occasion.

W. C. Bowman will serve as treasurer and working with him will be Judson Longstreet, Dr. J. W. Post, Rev. Owen Shields, Ted Jamison and Carl Baldwin. For advertising committee chairman, Woodson W. Collins has been named. James Snow of the Croton church will serve as chairman of the usher committee with men of the downtown churches serving in that capacity.

On September 19 J. Reiber of the Pennsylvania United Protestant Crusade will speak in the city. The meeting will be sponsored by the church council.

Safety Campaign Planned By State

Turnpike Tolls Up—Liquor Control Board To Elim- inate Low Priced Items

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—The State Highway Safety Advisory committee will launch an intensified campaign next month to reduce traffic fatalities. It will be aimed at youthful bicycle riders as well as motorists and pedestrians. The first phase of the program will end in February when the committee will announce another six months program. It will be the most intense campaign of its kind since the advisory committee was formed more than 12 years ago when highway slaughter touched an unprecedented high. The committee will use all media available to get its messages across to the public. Special cooperation from newspapers is promised by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers association. For the first half of the year-long program, the committee has proposed the following monthly themes: September, Child Safety; October, Night Driving; November, Pedestrian Safety; December, Holiday and Winter Driving Hazards; January and February, Driver Training. The committee, which will work through field representatives and support groups, has prepared a program kit containing sample safety ads, pamphlets and radio scripts which pinpoint the objectives of the campaign.

The State Department of Public Assistance is ready for a scrutiny of its operations by a subcommittee of the legislature's fact-finding group, the joint State Government commission. The department has been under fire for most of the 12 years it has been operating and its officials know the value of advance planning. So far, the department's strategists appear to have decided to guide the inquiry along four lines: (1) Function, (2) Administration, (3) Efficiency and (4) Policies.

A booklet has been prepared in which the department's officials defend their operation of the nation's second largest relief program which has cost more than one billion dollars in the past 16 years. The pamphlet indicates, however, that officials are aware some revision may result for the first time in the department's history.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike commission is rounding out nine years of operation of the world's longest toll road. In that time, it has collected approximately $29,386,000 in tolls from roughly 17,963,000 passenger cars, trucks and busses. The total undoubtedly would be higher but the gasoline rationing of war years sharply reduced traffic on the Irwin-Middletown turnpike, a distance of 160 miles. The commission collected $6,330,000 during the fiscal year ended June 1, an increase of 24 per cent over a similar month in the previous year. Contractors are pushing the eastward extension from Middlesex into the metropolitan area at a speedy clip and have approximately 75 per cent of the new road under contract. The westward extension from Irwin to the Pennsylvania-Ohio line in the vicinity of Petersburg, O., will be accelerated next month. Contractors in the eastward leg expect to double their working forces until approximately 8,000 men will be working on various projects by late fall. The turnpike is bitterly opposed by the Free Roads association, a front for the Pennsylvania Hotels association, which claims the border-to-border super-highway will channel business across Pennsylvania into other states.

The State Liquor Control board is eliminating many low priced items from stocks because the manufacturers or jobbers will not press thorough merchandising campaigns in Pennsylvania. The board's closest list is large and designed to guide purchases into higher brackets. One effect, unless buyer resistance increases, will be to boost the tax yield for the commonwealth. The board has insisted that its policies are equitable and will not be responsible for any upsurge in bootlegging. The board has never admitted any widespread bootlegging in Pennsylvania although records of the federal government indicate raids by U. S. agents have uncovered some operations unknown to the board.

Shedding Season For Rattlers Here

Every day someone asks about the snakes that are found in this district, especially the rattler. Of all the snakes that are found in the United States the rattler is among the highly poisonous.

In the warm days of summer the rattler spends most of its time coiled up behind rocks or downed timber. When the snake is in coil its head lies flat, with its tail upright in the coil. When the snake is alarmed while coiled the body goes into a quivering movement and when this movement reaches the tail the bonny joints start to strike against each other sending forth a whirling buzz.

Man is not alone in being awed by the rattlers buzz. Animals and bird life fear it and tremble at the sound. The fear that humans have of snakes seems to be inborn. This is true also of wild life. A young rabbit in its first year, which never has come in contact with a rattler, will go into trembling spasms when it faces the snake.

There are 18 species of rattlers in North America and in this section the timber rattler is most common. The fangs of a rattler are fixed on movable bone and when the mouth opens they move forward. The fangs of a rattler are hypodermic needles through which the venom is injected.

This fall when the woods and fields start to lure you into the open, avoid rocky places on dry soil and do not step over a downed tree in the woods in haste to go places. Caution in strange places always is the best policy.

The rattlers shed in late summer and are partially blind. When they are in this condition they will strike at anything that moves. The rattlesnake is a pit viper with rattles, the copperhead a pit viper without the rattles.

Hopeful Outlook For Employment In Pennsylvania

Many Industries Have Optimistic View Points In Employment Outlook In Future

By JOHN HARMS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 16.—(INS)—An optimistic employment outlook was reported today in many Pennsylvania industries.

A survey by the Pennsylvania State Employment Service of the key industrial areas as of early August indicated a strengthening of the employment structure.

The PSES emphasized that final figures for July undoubtedly would top the 413,000 reported unemployed in June but that the jobless peak was in sight.

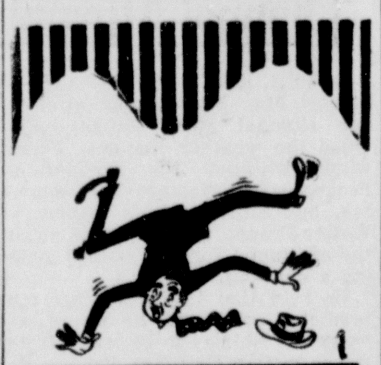

Optimistic signs were evident in textile, apparel, food and beverage, rubber, fabricated metal, government, hosiery and furniture and fixture industries. The construction industry, which failed to come through with anticipated summer spurt in employment, finally appeared to take hold and hopes are high for continued increase, according to the PSES.

The majority opinion of labor market analysts throughout the state indicates most industries will pick up gradually and hit full stride in October.

They do not expect to recoup war-time and post-war employment highs since the economy was pitched on an abnormal scale at those times. They predict we're headed for "stability" at lower levels.

The Johnson labor market area comparatively has maintained the most stable condition during the last six months. That area has not seen both extremes of employment as other areas.

The Scranton-Wilkes-Barre and Altoona districts appeared to have suffered comparatively greater than other areas. But indications point to a gradual pickup, according to the PSES.

The Altoona railroad center experienced heavy lay-offs but in the past few weeks furloughed workers were starting to be recalled.
